

This 2002 Ford Taurus was involved in a serious front end collision with a tree. The intrusion (depth of damage) on the Taurus is considerable.

Notice how the area that directly contacted the tree was rounded and pushed inward. Only a collision with a hard cylindrical object can cause this type of damage.